

WHO ARE WE TRULY?

I get this image of a planet where everyone is in armor and they are fighting each other. They have been fighting for so long that they have forgotten what they were fighting for and they can no longer tell who is on their side and who is not, because all the armor is covered in blood. I walk over to a fallen fighter the armor soaked in blood and open up the chest plate. I find a scared child operating the armor with ropes and controls.

That planet is the Earth and we are the people running around in armor slaying each other. Deep down we are wounded children with old fears and beliefs (programs) that lead us to put on armor to protect ourselves. The armor causes us to act falsely with ourselves and one another.

Our belief systems are the ropes that control the armor (our protective behavior.) We have been inside our armor for so long that we have forgotten who we truly are - BROTHERS AND SISTERS!!!

It is time to stop the insanity of brothers and sisters hurting and killing one another - children killing children!!!! Jon Whatley / 2002
